Your child's Education & Care is guided by our belief that

- All children are competent and capable learners rich in curiosity and wonder. They have a natural desire to learn, discover, question and hypothesis.
- Our Educational Program from infants to pre-schoolers is influenced by many Early Childhood theorists, the work of Loris Malaguzzi (founder of the Reggio Emilia Educational Philosophy) Emergent Curriculum, Nature Based Pedagogies, Best Practice Research & the Australian Early Years Learning Framework. Together these help us to guide and form the foundation of all children's play, learning, care, & environments, through quality teaching practices that empower children to become life-long learners

*"Children learn as they play.
Most importantly, in play children learn how to learn."*

O. Fred Donaldson

Our Philosophy

We believe it is paramount to provide high quality education that promotes a sense of belonging and wellbeing in a safe, inclusive environment that values connections between children, families, educators and community .

We advocate for the rights of the child and recognise that each child is unique with their own interests, strengths and abilities.

We provide opportunities for children to build connections to ensure that they are active global citizens with shared responsibilities to their environment and community.

We take an active and on going role in caring for our environment and our contribution to the world through a lens of sustainability.

We support parents/ families in their role as the first and foremost influential caregivers and teachers, with the right to make decisions about their child. We develop and maintain respectful and genuine relationships with families and collaborate in shared decision making in order to ensure that all children's learning experiences are meaningful.

Our Educators work collaboratively with children to develop nurturing and trusting relationships that allow children to feel safe, secure and supported.
